Thanks to our sponsors, Alfred Benesch & Company and CohnReznick, the scholarship winners and their parents could attend tonight’s awards banquet as our guests.
The Project Team Awards honors outstanding building projects that exemplify project team excellence and represent the best practices in teamwork by project owners, architects, engineers, construction managers and trades. Each year, CBC recognizes projects whose team members have met or surpassed goals and achieved higher project quality through this close collaboration.

Eligibility
The construction project must be located in Connecticut and have been substantially completed between January 1, 2014 and December 31, 2015.

Judging Criteria
- Documented team cooperation and collaboration from conceptual design through project completion (60%)
- Team’s approach to the project’s unique challenges (20%)
- Meeting the owner’s budget and schedule constraints (10%)
- Project’s social, economic or sustainable design considerations (10%)

To determine Project Team of the Year Award, the Judges reviewed the 1st place winning entries in each category and reached a consensus on one project that stood out above all the rest in terms of the Judging Criteria.

Policies
- Judges review, score and comment on all entries in each category.
- Judges that have a current working relationship with a submitting firm or other conflicts of interest are recused from the judging process.
- If a winner cannot be agreed upon, the project with the highest score in the Project Team Cooperation Category will be deemed the project with the higher score, followed by each successive criterion, if necessary, until a tie is broken.
What CBC can do for you....

Through the Connecticut Building Congress (CBC), you have access to information and people vital to your business. CBC is committed to strengthening the design and construction industry, as well as CBC’s member firms and their professionals. CBC is an active organization with representatives from every facet of the industry - architects, engineers, & contractors (AEC); owners; suppliers; attorneys; bankers; accountants; insurers; developers; and consultants. Monthly evening programs provide an informal networking atmosphere and feature keynote speakers, sharing insight on industry issues, trends and upcoming projects.

Involvement on CBC committees and attendance at events provide unparalleled networking opportunities and access to AEC leaders to develop strategic alliances often leading to lasting relationships that will increase your value in the firm and your firm’s value to its clients and the industry.

We hope that you will consider joining CBC. For more information about the Connecticut Building Congress, please contact:
